Dear Ms. Wilkens:

The Good Government for America Committee is in receipt of your letter dated July 20, 2000, regarding our amended 1999 year- and FEC report and our first quarter 2000 FEC report.

Both original Requests for Additional Information question our "limited payments for administrative expenses". Other than those operating payments disclosed, the minimal necessary administrative services during these periods have been personally provided by individuals on a volunteer basis. No administrative expenses beyond those reported have been incurred, and no amendment to the FEC reports is required.

With respect to the Line 23 disbursements on our 1999 year- and report, enclosed please find an amended Schedule B page which lists the state, office sought, and (where applicable) the congressional district. An amendment to our 2000 first quarter report was filed on July 15, 2000, which supplied this information for the Line 23 contributions on that report.

Another issue in your letter addressing our first quarter report was our best efforts regarding employer and occupation information. Amended Schedule A pages were also a part of the July 15, 2000 amendment for this report, and included this information for all except one donor.

Finally, with regard to purpose of disbursements, the amended first quarter report filed July 15, 2000 also included amended Schedule B pages for Line 21b. These amended pages clarified that the consulting payments to E.H. Murray and Associates were for fundraising services.

Sincerely,

John A. Stabler, Treasurer
Good Government for America
